

High Commissioner's Message

You are on the website of the High Commission of India, South Africa

Anchored firmly to a common past and working jointly today across diverse sectors, the India-South Africa partnership is one of convergence and confluence. The dialogue across the BRICS, IBSA, IORA and the G20 groupings on topics as diverse as multilateral reform, security matters and trade relations adds further dimension and extensity. The India- South Africa relationship is strategic. It stands for peace in a time of turmoil, serves as a platform for collaboration in a time of chaos and above all is an alliance of trust and conviction.

The website seeks to capture these diverse aspects of a dynamic relationship. Welcome aboard!

Very best wishes
